

Selected Vocabulary from "Double Dare / Sémni Eyá Wapáǵeyapi" anákitan – to rush or flee toward one's own bloká – a male (animals only) čhaŋlwákħa – to be cowardly, weak-hearted haŋtét'ingzA – to be brave, strong-hearted čhaŋtíyaphǎ – to have one's heart beat hard (out of excitement or fear) čhet'úŋgla – to doubt or disbelieve someone or something čísčila – to be small, little, tiny ečhúŋ-kapíŋ – to not want to do something, be reluctant to do, not feel like doing hiyúweǵA – to arrive crossing a body of water ħupákiglake – a bat ičínunpani – never again, not a second time iglúowothaŋla – to straighten oneself out (figuratively or literally) iglúwičakħA – to prove oneself, one's worth ignú – to accuse someone of something, call names or humiliate about something ihǎħa – to laugh at someone or something, make fun of, ridicule ištélyA – to embarrass someone with something, to shame about something íyašlalyA – to catch someone in a bad act iyáyuħA – to constantly follow someone, be attached to iyówiŋyAŋ – to consent, agree, be willing kaípaweħ iyáyA – to go off course, take a shoot at someone or something kħólákičhiyA – to be friends with each other kiglǵA – to catch up with someone, overtake kté – to kill someone or something léčhunp-s'e – like this lúzahAŋ – to be fast, speedy manúŋ – to steal something nat'úŋkA – to hesitate, hold back nihúŋ kiŋ – your mother nihúŋkake – your parents niyáte – your father očhíŋšičA – to be crabby, bad-tempered oéčhun wašté – to be easy to do ohíŋħpayA – to fall into something ohítikA – to be brave, daring; foolhardy oíyokpazA – it is dark, there is darkness ópħa – to be a member of something sémni – a teenage guy tħáħčašunkala – a sheep tħakħólaku kiŋ – his friend; his friends wačhíŋnunpa – to be undecided, hesitant wačhíŋtħuŋ šni – to have no sense, be stupid, be an idiot wagmúšpaŋšni – a watermelon wamánun – to steal things, be a thief wawíyayuhǎ – to follow people, be a follower wíič'iglukčəŋ – to think for oneself wíyopaštakA – to encourage or pressure someone to do things wóišteče – shame, embarrassment, disgrace wóšil káǵA –to stir up trouble, cause trouble wrong turn (figuratively or literally) khuté – to